

Not a First Time Dog- Owner Dog

While your pup has been at the shelter, they have shown characteristics that may pose a challenge for every day dog owners. Things such as excessive high energy, rude or mouthy behavior, impatience, and being a little headstrong. By no means does this mean your dog is a “bad dog” but rather suggests your dog requires more one on one attention. With ample exercise and direction, you should find no issues moving forward with your new pet. We also are partnered with New Dawn Animal Behavior Center if you need additional assistance to better communicate with your new furry friend.
